- * Under "the Dancing Rabbit Treaty", those Choctaws who chose, were permitted to remain the their native land, to become citizens of the U.S. and to receive a grant of land. Over 1,500 stayed. = = = = =
- * Fort Smith was established in 1817 because the Cherokees had settled on lands claimed by the Osage, causing constant friction between the two. = = = = =

- * The only Indian Chief to be buried in the Congressional Cemetery in Washington D.C. was General Pushmataha, a Choctaw Chief who fought in the War of 1812. = = = = =
- * An Act of May, 1908 made all the Tribal Records, Papers and Documents of the Five Indian Nations the property of the United States. = = = = =
- * Since the Indians were unaware of gender, boys's and girl's names were used interchangeably. = = = = =
- * Except for the remnant Cherokees who escaped to the hills of North Carolina and Tennessee, the removal of the Eastern Cherokees had been completed by 1839. = = = = =
- * A white man or a white man's crime against an Indian or an Indian's crime against a white man was without jurisdiction in the Indian Courts. = = = = =

The Society is also on-line thanks to David Dearing look for us under Choctaw County. What would you like to see more of in the newsletter? Jaynie would like some idea's. We are going to do more 5 generation charts, maybe a whole issue, since we don't have enough for a book yet. I Grandfather Albert Asberry Ford married Mattie Quillin Sep 11, 1889 in Lamar Co. They had 2 children. I met their daughter Jennie Bell Nunnalley in 1968. She had one son named Ray Ford. Her brother James William (Will) Ford m Ethel Richmond June 26, 1916 in Lamar Co. They later divorced and she moved to Calif. (She married a man named Hertz) Ethel Ford Hertz is the person that gave me the names of her children. Her first husband James William (Will) Ford died before his sister Jenny Bell Ford Nunnally.

I would like to know who more about Jas. William Ford's children. There was one son named William Anderson Ford, born Dec. 28, 1926, I think he was born in Lamar Co but not sure. I think he must have children and grandchildren around that area. HUGO. OK

James (Will) Ford's sister lived in Hugh but I think she went to Amarillo to live with her son late in life but not sure. I think she would be buried in Hugh. Her full name would be Jennie Bell Ford Nunnally.
