

J.O. Sparks

Fort Towson Enterprise – July 12, 1912 – transcribed by Ron Henson

J.O. Sparks, who dilled [sic] R.L. Cares at Grant last Friday, is still at large. A considerable reward has been offered for his capture which no doubt will be the cause of his arrest soon. It is said he was north of this place yesterday, but the officers who went out to investigate have not returned up to going to press.
