

Curtis - Bryan

The Submarine October 24, 1913 - transcribed by Ron Henson

On last Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, Colbert Curtis and Miss. Grace Bryan were married at the home of the brides parents, J.W. Bryan, Rev. J.H. Rogers officiating.

Both are well known and popular young people.

Colbert has purchased the Herman Moore property in the east side of town and they will make their future home here, among friends and relatives.

The Submarine wishes that they may ever have: Tea in the coffee pot, sugar and lard; flour in the meal bin, a pretty front yard; a swine in the pig pen, and spotted hound dog; Joy, love, peace happiness, good will and the dart from cupid's bow may never lose its brilliant glow thru thick and thin; rain or sunshine and that both may never undertake to put up the stove pipe at the same time.
